

TREASURER

Dean has been around basketball most of his life. He started playing in primary school...

kept going through high school and always loved being part of the community, even if he'll happily admit he wasn't the best player on the court.

He has spent the past seven years on a Hills primary school council, including four as President, and has volunteered on local sporting club committees as both Treasurer and Secretary.

These days he gets to enjoy the game from the sidelines, watching his daughter fall in love with basketball too. She began in Lakers Ready, now plays Under 12s and brings the same enthusiasm he once did.

Professionally, Dean works in IT security, leading teams that protect organisations from cyber threats and manage crises when they arise. He brings steady leadership, clear thinking and strong governance skills to the Treasurer role.
